On 24th September 2014, Mr. Ramesh Kumar Mehta delivered a special lecture for the law school students. He is a Patent Attorney and Founder of Mehta & Mehta Associates. He has held posts of Dy. Director - IPR at DRDO, DHQs, New Delhi; Executive Consultant – IPR & TT at FITT, IIT Delhi; and Consultant – IPR at Remfry&Sagar, Gurgaon. He was Examiner of Patents & Designs at Patent Office, Delhi. He is a Former Expert Member of Patents Committee of dept. of Biotecnology, Ministry of Science and Technology, and IP Syllabus and Copyright Committees of Ministry of HRD, Govt. of India.The lecture touched upon varied aspects of the present day patent regime. He enlightened the students on the general understanding of the patents. He distinguished the process and the product patents throwing light upon the significance of section 3(d) of the Patents Act and discussed the landmark judgment of Novartis v. Union of India.