In On February 16, 2015, Dr. Adish C. Aggarwala, Sr. Advocate, delivered a Special Lecture on the topic “National Judicial Appointment Commission” to the students of SOL. He is the President of International Council of Jurists and Chairman, All India Bar Association. He also is an expert of Constitutional Law and authored few books in the subject. He enlightened the students by relating the constitutional provisions with the provisions of the appointment in the higher judiciary in India. He analyzed the present system of appointment of judges in the High Courts and the Supreme Court and pointed out the deficiencies in the same. He expressed concerns regarding the vice of corruption which has crept in the process and discussed as to how the National Judicial Appointment Commission could be helpful in bringing transparency in the system. Besides, he encouraged the students about the future prospect and career options in the field of law.
