A JOURNEY OF INNOVATION & CULTURAL EXPLORATION

In February 2023, The NorthCap University played host to the International Student Start-Up Idea Competition, a collaborative initiative between Cintana Education and Universitas Esa Unggul, Indonesia (UEU). This significant event brought together students hailing from diverse corners of the globe, including Indonesia, the Philippines, Ecuador, Montenegro and India. It was a global academic endeavour that attested to NCU's unwavering commitment of fostering education that transcends geographical boundaries.

IMPACTING COMMUNITY

through Sustainable Innovations

Opening The GATES to GLOBAL Innovation

The event commenced with a gracious welcome extended to international students, orchestrated by NCU students, faculty members and staff. This hospitable reception set the tone for the week-long competition, designed to instill the values of innovation, entrepreneurship and global collaboration in the participating students. The attendees received meticulously crafted kits containing essential information and were introduced to their NCU counterparts, who would serve as their buddies and guides throughout the competition.

A notable feature of the event was the Inauguration Ceremony, graced by esteemed dignitaries such as Hon'ble Governing Body Members, the Pro-Chancellor, the Vice Chancellor and representatives from Cintana Education. The event's opening moments were marked by an insightful video highlighting the 17 Sustainable Development Goals and the imperative of sustainable innovation. Dr. Rekha Vig from NCU and Prita Sayudi from UEU eloquently introduced the competition's objectives, further underscoring the importance of sustainable innovations.

As the competition unfolded, it was apparent that this was more than just a contest; it was an immersive educational experience. Industry experts led intensive masterclasses on entrepreneurship and sustainable innovation. These sessions, led by individuals such as Mr. Vidya Bhushan, Founder and COO at Dalchini Technologies, provided participants with a deep understanding of the intricacies of launching and refining innovative products.

Empowering the ENTREPRENEURS of Tomorrow

Day 2 emphasised sustainability, innovation and entrepreneurship. Participants delved into NCU's Centres of Excellence in AI/VR and Gaming, gaining hands-on exposure to cutting-edge technology. The day was filled with immersive masterclasses, a drone show, networking opportunities and preparations for the impending startup pitches. Of particular note was the engaging masterclass by Gaurav Sarup, Director - ESG, Carbon & Social Performance at Vedanta Resources Limited, which shed light on corporate India's efforts in driving the sustainability agenda.

One of the event's highlights was a candid session with Rashi Narang, Founder of Heads Up For Tails, a renowned name in the pet care industry of India. Her journey, from overcoming early struggles to navigating through pivotal decisions, offered invaluable insights into the world of entrepreneurship for all students.

The event further expanded its horizons by featuring Airbotix, an organisation specialising in indigenous drone and underwater vehicle technology. A live demonstration of their innovative drones provided participants with a glimpse of cutting-edge technologies and how to launch them in the market.

Unique Pitches, INNOVATIVE INSIGHTS & WINNING Triumph

As the competition progressed into its later stages, students were not confined to the university campus alone. They embarked on a visit to the Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Delhi's

Research and Innovation Park. Here, they interacted with founders of successful startups, gaining firsthand insights into the practicalities of converting innovative ideas into reality. The students also had the opportunity to explore manufacturing and electrical labs at the FITT Centre.

Each day was a journey of discovery and learning, culminating in the students' startup presentations on Day 4. Teams from different universities, including Universidad Internacional del Ecuador, Mapua University, The NorthCap University, Universitas Esa Unggul and University of Dinja Gorica, presented their entrepreneurial concepts to a distinguished jury comprising of Dr. Rick Shangraw Jr., President of Cintana Education, Dr. Vijay Arora, Chief Executive Officer of IGDTUW Anveshan Foundation, Mr. Kavindra Taliyan, Chief Executive Officer of Atal Incubation Centre, JNUFI and Mr. Vishal Chadha, Former AVP & Head Net New Business, HCL Technologies at the NCU's Incubation and Innovation Centre. The competition was fierce, and PePiPow from Universitas Esa Unggul emerged as the champion.

Elevation and Enrichment: BEYOND the COMPETITION

Beyond the intense intellectual engagement, the event also aimed to enrich the participants culturally. Days 5 and 6 were dedicated to immersing the students in India's rich heritage. They explored historical landmarks such as the Red Fort, India Gate, Rashtrapati Bhavan and the Parliament House in Delhi. A visit to Delhi Haat provided an opportunity to experience local crafts and cuisine. Furthermore, a trip to Agra, with the iconic Taj Mahal as its centerpiece, showcased the splendour of Mughal architecture.

The International Student Start-Up Idea Competition at NCU was more than just a competition; it was a transformative experience. It exemplified NCU's commitment to providing an education that extends beyond borders. It provided a platform for students to exchange ideas, build international networks and develop the confidence to tackle global challenges.

NCU's dedication to nurturing innovation, entrepreneurship and global collaboration among its students is rooted in the hope that our future leaders will use their knowledge and experiences to make a lasting impact on the world.
